Re: United States v William Tucker
Ind #: 13-CR-378 (AJN)

Dear Judge Nathan:

With respect to the motion filed July 26, 2021 in this matter, Exhibit G to the Declaration of this writer inadvertently contained the wrong two pages of the PSR, instead of the two intended pages from that document. I attach hereto the corrected exhibit, and respectfully request permission of the Court to substitute the attached for that which was filed, and to have the original Exhibit G withdrawn and completely disregarded. I apologize to the Court and the government for this inconvenience.

SO ORDERED.

Thank you very much for your attention

Sincerely,

Robert A. Soloway

12. According to a BOP SENTRY inquiry, the defendant has not committed any infractions since being incarcerated.

The Offense Conduct

13. This investigation was conducted by agents of the DEA and was based upon observations, conversations with other law enforcement agents and the examination of reports and records. During the course of the investigation, law enforcement agents worked with a witness (CW) and a confidential informant (CI). It is noted that all telephone conversations and meetings were either recorded or surveilled by agents.
14. In March 2013, the CW advised agents that he knew an individual, later identified as JOHN THOMPSON, a/k/a "Ya Ya," who participated in home invasion robberies of drug dealers and had connections to crews that conducted these types of robberies.
15. During that same month, at agents' direction, the CW called JOHN THOMPSON, and told THOMPSON that he knew of a tipster who had information on a drug trafficking organization that could be robbed. THOMPSON told the CW that he was interested in meeting the tipster and carrying out the robbery. The CW and THOMPSON arranged to meet in New York, NY to further discuss the robbery. The CW told THOMPSON that the tipster would be there.
16. On March 16, 2013, the CW and CI-1, who was posing as the tipster, picked up JOHN THOMPSON from the Port Authority Bus Terminal in New York, NY and took him to a restaurant on 34th Street and 10th Avenue. Following the meeting, agents learned that the CW and CI-1 explained to THOMPSON that CI-1 had inside information that a drug trafficking organization planned to ship from Miami, FL to New York, NY multiple kilograms of cocaine and heroin, which could be robbed with force. CI-1 told THOMPSON that CI-1's "girlfriend" would travel with the members of the organization who would be transporting the narcotics shipment, and that she would provide updates to CI-1.
